KILLED BY FALLING POLE.

Orushed beneath the center pole of the great tent, one man was killed and another one so severely injured that he will die when the cauvas-sovered hippodrome of the Frank A. Robins circus in Jersey City collapsed early yes-

The tent was crushed by the hurricane which accompanied the thunderstorm

It was reported at first that a number of animels had escaped when the cages were overturned as the canvas roof fell which caused some anxiety until the report was denied.

Several hours before the storm started the head of the canvasmen heard the increasing gale and ordered out half a dozen of the men to drive extra tent stakes, to which the guy ropes were fastened. This, it was believed, would hold down the top, but, as the ropes and canvas were new, as soon as the downpoor started they began to shrink and the pull soon loosened the extra stakes.

About a dozen men were asleep in the tent when it fell. Most of them heard the rip of the canvas as the centre pole started to list and pulled out the stakes on the windward side of the canvas. Three mee, however, were asleep in one of the exhibition parade wagons, and before they could get cut the cantre-pole crashed down, crushing the wagon as though if were paper.

One of the trio escaped with minor lajuries, but the other two were pinned under the pole.

SUES HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW. Although she never was indicted for shooting Dr. James W. Simpson, her son-in-law, in New York, more than being sued for $10,000 damages by Dr.
Simpson for the shooting. The suit was placed on trial in the Supreme Court of the 4th day of April, 1910, in the yesterday.

Dr. Simpson is the Fifth avenue dentist who, two years ago, was tried and acquitted of the morder of his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner, His defense was that the shooting was accideptal.

Four months after he was acquitted he went to Northport, L. I., to see his wife who was with her mother, Mrs. Horner, Dr. Simpson was refused admittance, and in an argument that followed between Mrs. Horner and himself he was shot in the abdomen. Mrs. Horner was arrested, but Dr. Simpson refused to prosecute

Dr. Simpson testified yesterday that his dental practice, which brought in from $500 to $700 a month, had been largely lost to him because his health had been impaired by the bullet wounds so that he was unable to attend to his

Mrs. Horner, testifying in her own behalf, said that when she refused to admit Simpson to her home he made a motion as though to draw a revolver. In fear of her life, she said, she shot him.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the seusitive membrane that lines the air passiges. It is made to overcome the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bres, 56 Warren Street, New York,

A VALUABLE FIND.

Striking by accident a secret spring that held a bollow pedest I in the cidfashioned brown stone bouse at 543 Madison avenue, New York, where the late Mrs. Theodore Octavia A. Moss, widow of the veteran thestrical manager, had resided many years, Beverly Kator, S. F. Dyson & Bro. a young granded, had thrust upon his goze jewelry, dismonds and other precions stones worth $100,000 and making up one of the most interesting cellections ever found in New York.

Mystery attached to the precious co'-lection. Everyone who knew Mrs. Moss was aware that she owned magnificent jewele. After ber desth, latt January, no trace could be found of any part of her rich holdings. In the treasure cave was found a brooch containing 325 diamonds, an act'que necklace of great value, a gold gidle, Russian enameled garters with six diamonds, a gold owl head with 50 dia-monds, a half moon with 29 diamonds, a necklace of 30 diamonds-the center stone of which weighed 15 karats-and a large collection of rings, pins, deg collars, pendants, and other articles. The jewels were taken at once to a more secure abiding place, where every beholder was amszed at the value of the things that had been hidden in the old pedestal.

ATTACKED BY A BEAR. With his body badly mangled by teeth and clause and his left arm almost torn from its socket, Bichard Spicer, a to Leadbeater's, keeper at the New York park 200, was unconscious when rescued yesterday afteraoon from the bear pit after a desperate struggle with an angry bear. He was removed to a hospital in a critical condition. Elwyn Sandborn, a photographer, escaped from the pit with minor burts after a hard fight with the Patchs, a hoge brown Russian bear, who had always been considered mildtempered, became angry when Spicer at-tempted to make her sit up and pose for a photograph with her cube. First dealing him a terrific blow with her paw, she next saized him by the arm and dragged him into the den, clawing and msuling bim.

Sandborn grabbed an iron bar and ushed to the rescue of Spicer, who by that time had been rendered unconscious. Patcha turned on him, tu: the photographer managed to fight her off. His and the ories of a Lundred spects tors brought other attendants, who rescued the imperiled men.

BOY KILLS HIS COUSIN. Masuel Bates, 7 years old, showed absolutely no sign of emotion yesterday in Magnolia, Miss., when the police made him confess that he had shot and killed his little consin, Hanna Bates, and had hilden her body in the bushes. The corpse of the little girl was discovered by her mother, who not'ced two dogs tearing at what appeared to be a bundle of cicthes. Manuel and his little consin had quarreled over a piece of pie. Manual entered the house and got a shotgan. After shooting the little girl he became frightened and dragged the small corpse 200 feet or more to a dense brier thicket. The mother noticed a pool of blood when she came home.

"How did that pool of blood come to be there?" she saked of the lad, "Why I cut my foot a litle while sgo, see,' and the boy held up a bandaged foot for inspection. Sabsequently the police discovered that the foot was without a

DEATH OF BJORNSON.

Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the Norwegian poet, novelist and dramatist, reformer and advocate of universal peace, died in Paris last night.

The last serious iliness of the novelist extanded over nearly a year. Ha was brought to Paris in the early part of last November for special treatment.

In Paris, however, he was quable to receive the treatment for arterio scierosis from which be was suffering. Bjornsterne Bjornsen, Norway's most celebrated poet and author, was born at Kvikne (Oster-dalen, Norway), December 8, 1832.

dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being

Gives no outside heat, no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner Gives no outside heat, no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner without heating the kitchen or the cook. It is immediately lighted and immediately extinguished. It can be changed from a slow to a quick fire by turning a handle. There's no drudgery connected with it, no coal to carry, no wood to chop. You don't have to wait fifteen or twenty minutes till its fire gets going. Apply a light and it's ready. By simply turning the wick up or down you get a slow or an intense heat on the bottom of the pot, pan, kettle or oven, and nowhere else.
